Reimagine Beverage Containers

Coca-Cola Recycling LLC and Environmental Products Corporation (Envipco) announced today that they will introduce Reimagine Beverage Containers, the newest innovation in beverage container recycling. The first Reimagine center is being piloted in Arlington, Texas – a municipality working toward a greener footprint...

The Reimagine Concept

Reimagine Beverage Containers recycling centers are designed to offer consumers new opportunities to recycle used beverage bottles and cans. For families without curbside recycling and small businesses without commercial recycling availability, Reimagine provides an efficient way to recycle large quantities of used beverage containers. Used beverage containers can be deposited in bulk, making it a convenient way to process cans.
